DRIVE FOR SWEET-GILLETTE FUNDS TO START TUESDAY

Dear Baws and Tanans to Canvass University and Town; Men Confident

"Two of the best track men in America."

The drive for funds to send Sweet and Gillette to the meet at Chicago June will be started next week, according to Jake Miller and Andy Cogswell, who are in charge of the drive. The Tanans and Bear Paws will handle the drive on the campus and the men will canvass the downtown district. The student aid in the drive this year means much more to Montana and the University than at any previous time because of the better opportunity Montana will have in competition with the best athletes of the United States.

The opening statement was made by Jim Stewart, track coach of Montana's winning team. "Gillette's time the mile and two mile have not been equaled this year by any athlete in America. His condition at the time of the meet and the order of events will determine whether he will be entered in both races. He will enter only the two mile Saturday against Montana State to try and better his time that he made at Palo Alto. Sweet last year ran shoulder to shoulder with the best sprinter in America and this year beat the best sprinter of the west. His leg is responding nicely to treatment and he is taking daily workouts in the gym."

Men Confident.

Here's what the athletes who will present Montana have to say: "The less I have to say about what I intend to do in Chicago, the fewer biases I will have to make if I fail come through," says Arnold Gillette, Montana's star distance runner. "Honestly don't know in what events will be entered. If the eastern miles are faster than those on the coast, I am almost certain I can't run the mile and two mile. Possibly if I can break the two mile record against the boats, I'll run that event alone. If the coach is the doctor, if he says, 'Run both races,' I'll try it, and if he says I have to put Montana on the line."

Sweet Out to Win.

"I expect to do my best," says Russell Sweet, Montana's star sprinter. "I only hope my leg is in first class shape so I can do my best. Jim will have me entered in the 100 and 220. In these races I will get a chance to run against Roland Locke, Nebraska sprinter. Stewart will have me in first class shape by next week and expects me to run a little Friday Saturday this week. My indoor training has helped me a great deal. I have kept my leg muscles in good shape. I hope to do my best for Montana at Chicago."

NEW YWCA CABINET HAS FIRST MEETING

Newly installed members of YWCA met held their first meeting of the year at the Blue Parrot Thursday night at 6 o'clock. Before the dinner a short business meeting was held. Eloise Walker, general manager of track meet concessions, reported that $106 was turned over to treasurer. The possibility of a session for the track meet with O. C. Saturday was discussed, and it was probable that YWCA will handle it also.

Elizabeth McCoy was appointed the state from the Montana association to attend the conference at Seattle, Washington, the latter part of the month. Edith Dawes, president, urged that all members of the cabinet that had possibly do so try to attend this conference. Plans for the fall membership drive were discussed, and it was definitely drawn up at the meeting, which will take place Friday, June 2, at 4:30, in the Main rest room.

Mrs. Theodore Brantley was the hostess of Mrs. Moore for dinner Thursday at the Delta Gamma house.

KUOM TO GO ON AIR LAST TIME THURSDAY

Closing Program to Be One of the Longest and Most Diverse Given

KUOM, the University radio station, will close for the present school year next Thursday. At this time the station will be on the air for a period of more than four hours. The closing program will be the longest and most diverse given from the station in some time. According to the director, there will be at least 25 musicians and speakers present during the course of the evening. The University school of music will play a prominent part in the schedule.

KUOM will close the most successful season in its history with the Thursday program. From the opening in the fall quarter the station was on the air for every program on the schedule. At no one time was KUOM forced to suspend operation for any length of time. In this period the national range was made greater than ever before, the season closing with a reliable established transmitting range extending from Alaska to South Carolina and from California to Maine, practically blanketing the entire country.

SMITH RECEIVES OLD ENGLISH DOCUMENTS

Collection Illustrates Phases of Present Institutions in Their Early Forms

Chester H. Smith of the Law school faculty recently acquired seven early English documents, originally a part of a collection of a well known genealogist, in an excellent state of preservation and legibility. The collection illustrates many phases of the present social, political, and legal institutions in their early development. The instruments were all written on parchment by professional scribes, who probably put in many hours copying the deeds. Most of the deeds are real indentures bearing dates from 1684 to 1794. The collection includes deeds dated March 2, 1684 and February 19, 1708; a deed of Foffiment dated March 11, 1708; a prenuptial agreement dated August 30, 1710; a deed of exchange dated July 20, 1722; and deeds of lease to be followed by deeds of release, dated January 22, 1705, and October 9, 1794. A number of our instruments today still bear the term indenture which was derived from a custom of cutting the deed in two parts with a curved line to prevent fraud. One of the deeds is a poll deed, made by one person, and has no indenture edge. The indenture is made by two persons.

Date to Revolutionary War. The deeds bearing dates later than 1694 are a little different in that each has a stamp attached to it, demanded by the law passed by Parliament, known as the Stamp act, one of the causes of the Revolutionary war. At the bottom of each paper a fold was made on which the parties signed their names or made their marks, for few people could write in those days. The seal of the scrivener is in this fold, remarkably preserved. As today, the deeds bear the words "Signed and Sealed" which then had a meaning but now does not mean so much.

The documents are to be used in real property law classes to explain more easily the significance of certain ancient law terms. Mr. Smith was very much elated over his possessions and intends to have them framed for display and to protect them from too much handling.

ORCHESTRA IS REHEARSING.

University orchestra is rehearsing for their program which they will present during commencement week. It is planned that they will play at the Baccalaureate sermon Sunday evening and at the commencement exercises Monday morning.

Ruth Gannaway and Frances Elge gave several humorous readings and Mary Shope entertained with a violin solo. The guests were Dean Sedman, Mrs. Theodore Brantley, Mrs. F. K. MONTANA MASQUERS ELECT NEW MEMBERS

Fourteen Voted Into Dramatic Organization; Plans for Little Theater Aired

Fourteen students were elected to membership in the Montana Masquers at a meeting of the dramatic organization Tuesday evening. Plans for the Little Theater, which are now practically complete, were also discussed at some length.

The proposed stage of the new theater will be much broader and bigger than the present auditorium stage, and it will be almost twice as deep. Dressing rooms and a large property room will be situated at the sides. Next year's producing staff in connection with the theater will not be announced until early in the fall.

New Members Elected.

Those elected to the Masquers are: Adolph Still, Big Timber; Elizabeth McCoy, Chinook; John Schroeder, Helena; Leonard Brewer, Baker; Martha Dunlap, Thompson Falls; Chad Wallin, Sarah Mereson, Lewis; Harold Rhude, Myrtle, Dunks; Butte; Dorothy Norton, Eloise Walker, Great Falls; and Ronald Miller, Myrtle Hollingsworth and Myrtle Klammer, Missoula. Those who have acted in the casts or in an official capacity on the producing staffs of two or more plays this year were considered eligible to membership.

New Rules Made.

Beginning next fall only students may be voted into the club who have been members of the acting or producing staffs of at least three Masquer plays. Under this system if a student has had a part in a production this year, he need only take part in two plays next year to become eligible for membership.

The Masquers will meet again in Main hall auditorium Tuesday evening at 7:30. The newly-elected members are invited and urged to attend. This will be the last meeting of the quarter.

NO CHANGE IN SENIOR PRIVILEGES NEXT YEAR

Senior privileges will remain as they have according to the decision of the junior women at a meeting Thursday at 3 o'clock in the Natural Science building.

The rule reads: "Senior girls, by virtue of their rank, are placed upon their own responsibility if they do not abuse their privilege." This was defined and it was agreed that no woman would be excused upon the pretense that she did not understand what the privileges are. All infringements will be handled by the Student Affairs committee next year.

ANDY COGSWELL ELECTED NEW PRESIDENT OF M CLUB; SPAULDING VICE-PRESIDENT

Andy Cogswell, Missoula, was elected president of the M club at a meeting held last Tuesday. Clarence Spaulding, Missoula, was elected vice-president, and Curtis Brittenham, Kalispell, secretary-treasurer.

Cogswell is a two letter man in football, Spaulding has two letters in track and Brittenham won his letter in football. Besides electing officers the club discussed the Tag day to send Montana track men to the national track and field meet in Chicago next month. They will assist the Bear Paws and Tanans in the sale.

BALLOTING TO CLOSE TODAY ON SELF GOVERNMENT PLAN

ENGLISH INSTRUCTOR WILL TEACH IN EAST

Mirrieles Will Be Affiliated With Middlebury College This Summer

Professor Lucia Mirrieles of the English department will leave shortly after the close of the school year for Middlebury College, Vermont, where she will be affiliated with the English department of that school for a term of six weeks. Miss Mirrieles plans to go by way of Montreal, Canada, where she will remain for a few days before going to Vermont to assume her duties for the summer.

The English department at the Vermont school which is more than 300 years old will be conducted at Bread Loaf Inn, about eleven miles from the main college. Many famous poets, writers and speakers visit and live at this inn which affords the students the opportunity of coming in primary contact with them. This supplementary system of visiting lecturers was the first experiment of this kind in the United States.

Penn Adopts Idea.

The University of Pennsylvania was the second school in America to adopt this idea. Among the celebrated lecturers who will visit this department of English at Middlebury college are Henry S. Canby, editor of the Saturday Review of Literature, New York; George P. Baker, professor of History and Technique of Drama and director of the University theater at Yale. Mr. Baker is considered as one of the greatest authorities in American literature.

After a six weeks term at Middlebury college, Miss Mirrieles will visit friends in Denver and San Francisco returning to Montana by way of San Francisco.

JUNIORS WILL GIVE BIG PROM TONIGHT

All arrangements are practically complete for the Junior Prom, the last big all-University formal which is to be given this season, at the Winter Garden tonight. Tickets will remain on sale at a booth in the library until 4 o'clock this afternoon due to student request.

A colorful program has been arranged, with specialty dances by members of the Bishop School of Dance, for the crowning of the queen. There will be 14 dances, and the queen will be announced and crowned during the eighth dance. Sheridan's orchestra will furnish music and entertainment. Permission until 1:15 has been granted.

Favors will be given the guests during the evening. These will be a fitting parting gift to the graduating seniors. Seniors are urged to present their invitations at the door.

FORESTRY SENIORS MAKE FIELD TRIPS

Five seniors in the logging engineering class in the Forestry school made a field trip up the Blackfoot to Elk creek with Professor T. W. Cook yesterday.

The party made a study of the new ACM logging railroad and camp which are under construction. The project was started this spring, and according to Mr. Cook will open up a large tract of commercial timber. Last week the seniors in the class of Forest management made a field trip with Professor Skeels. The party left Missoula last Thursday for the Flathead country and returned Tuesday. The time was spent in examining logging operations and measuring growths and stands of timber.

Students Are Urged to Vote Before Polls Close at 5 This Afternoon

There were 521 votes cast in Main hall and the Library building at 4 o'clock yesterday, regarding the proposed system on student self-government in examinations. It is necessary to receive a majority vote of the student body in favor to carry the plan. Failure will mean resorting to the old method of faculty proctoring.

President Clapp has requested the faculty to remain silent on the issue and let the students decide uninfluenced. Members of the student committee have been at work arousing interest in the system.

Students Favor Plan.

Helen Chaffin, president of AWS: "This proposed plan is a favorable step forward for the making of a better University in quality and spirit. I hope the women realize the necessity of developing such system and the opportunity it affords in presenting an argument in favor of Montana."

Robert Harper: "There is no reason why Montana should not take this step toward a straight honor system and it seems to me we are ready for a try at it, so here's hoping it goes through."

Margaret Maddock, vice-president of ASUM: "I feel that we should certainly try this new plan toward self-government, and make the idea an honored and cherished tradition as it is at many of the larger Universities in the country."

Wilfred Fehlhaber, sports editor of the Kaimin: "We're not satisfied with the present plan and the faculty members disliked the old system, so the thing to do is to try the new one."

Eloise Walker: "This is an intermediate step to a complete honor system. It should eventually be established at Montana and it is certain that we have seen enough of the other side to do all in our power to put the thing over."

Eleanor Stephenson: "Self-government in this form would mean so much in establishing prestige among the other schools. We are always saying 'Boost Montana' and this is our chance."

Andy Cogswell: "The plan, which has been worked out by the joint committee on examinations, is the first step toward complete student government. If Montana students turn it down there is no hope for further progress toward that end."

TWO APPOINTMENTS MADE BY PRESIDENT

Two new appointments to the teaching staff have been announced by the president's office. Charles W. Waters will be assistant professor of Botany beginning next fall and Miss Meta Peterson will teach Spanish in the foreign languages department.

Charles W. Waters received his Bachelor's degree from Berea college, Berea, Kentucky, in 1919. He took his Master's degree at Ohio State college. At present he is teaching Botany at the University of Michigan. Before that he had charge of the Botany department at Miami university, at Oxford, Ohio.

Miss Meta Peterson will take the place of Miss Polley, instructor of foreign languages during the absence of the latter. Miss Peterson received her B. A. at the University of California. At present she is teaching foreign languages in high school at Pittsburgh, California.

HALLS TO GIVE FORMAL DINNERS ON WEDNESDAY

North and Craig halls will each be the scene of formal birthday dinners Wednesday. It has become a custom to give a dinner each term honoring the girls whose birthdays fall within that time. This quarter the affair is being combined with the formal dinner which will, hereafter, be an annual event at the dormitories.

A Tag for Everybody

NEXT Tuesday morning Bear Paws, Tanans and members of the M club will launch a campaign for the purpose of raising funds to send Russell Sweet and Arnold Gillette, two Pacific Coast conference holders, to Chicago to participate in the national track and field meet to be held on Stagg field June 11 and 12.

The same policy as last year will be in vogue. Tags will be sold to students for as much as they care to contribute. It is hoped by those in charge of the campaign that enough money can be raised to carry the Copper, Silver and Gold athletes back to the big city. The Bear Paws and Tanans are to sell the tags on the campus, while members of the M club will canvass the downtown districts.

Coach Jim Stewart received a letter from John L. Griffith, commissioner of athletics for the Big Ten conference, and chairman of the National Collegiate association, congratulating Gillette and Sweet on their remarkable showing at the Pacific Coast conference meet and expressing hope that Montana would enter these two track stars in the big meet next month.

Here's a chance for Montana to again rally to a worthy cause. Remember the motto: "Montana at Chicago."

Student Support Needed

THIS afternoon at 4 o'clock polls will close on the vote for the recommendations for student self-government during examinations. At the close of voting yesterday more than 500 students had registered their votes. It will be necessary, however, for the recommendations to carry, to receive a majority vote of the entire student body before the plan can be put into use. In the event that the measure does not receive a favorable vote the old system of examinations will be reverted to.

Students who have not already voted are urged to do so before closing time this afternoon. The question has been given much thought, and students have made considerable comment on the subject. Various statements that have appeared in the Kaimin would seem to indicate that the plan is generally favored by Montana students.

Student self-government is not a new thing in colleges and universities. Each school year that passes sees the plan adopted at various schools all over the country. Montana has the opportunity to put the system into effect if the students respond with a large vote.

If you have not voted—do so now—for no vote at all means a vote against. . .

Montana Grizzly track squad will be seen in action for the last time this season Saturday afternoon, when Montana state college meets Montana on Dornblaser field.

The meet was originally planned to be an intercollegiate affair with the School of Mines, State college, Intermountain Union and Montana. The other schools failed to enter in the meet, with the exception of Intermountain college, which is sending three contestants.

Montana should be an easy winner, although the Bobcat school is promising some keen competition in various field events. Montana will be handicapped by the loss of Sweet, who will not be entered, for fear of further injury to his leg.

Saturday will not only be the last meet of the year, but will mark the end of four Grizzly track careers: Captain Milton Ritter, who for three years has paced the cinder paths of Dornblaser field; Heman Stark, another Grizzly who will wear the Copper, Silver and Gold for the last time, and Al and Emil Blumenthal, who have carried Montana colors to many a victory. These men have served their school well, and will be missed when the first call for track aspirants is launched next spring.

Muscle Bound

He who sleeps feels not the toothache.—Shakespeare.

Our forefathers had the Right idea when they Came to this Country.

A fellow would just go out And scrape some warpaint Off of an Indian brave When he wanted a little Sioux veneer.

But, as Methuselah said: "The first hundred years are the hardest."

FREE FACTS FOR FROSH.

They don't get seeds in a water melon by planting seeds in the spring.

Which makes us think of divers. They eat more in the spring than in the summer, but it's because of the spring-board.

Leading right up to the remark that it sure takes an art magazine to tell the naked truth.

The dumbest frosh ever pledged to a fraternity is the bird who refused to answer the door because he claimed it didn't ask him anything.

As Helen of Troy said: "So This is Paris?"

Reminding us of the bird who asked: "How did you find Paris?" and was answered, "Oh, about the Seine."

The co-eds claim there is only one thing worse than a man without a country, and that's a country without a man.

We sure would love to watch a couple of giraffes put on a necking party.

Even your best friend won't tell you. That's the insidious thing about having your shirt tail out.

A humorous column, after all, is the making of a school. Why, it is always making fun of one thing or another.

School Nurse Reports Health Improvement

"Health conditions on the campus have improved considerably with the warm weather," said Mrs. LeClaire, University nurse, "for we had only two cases of contagious disease, one major operation and four doctor calls at the dormitories in the month of April."

The health service report for the month of April is as follows: Men—Visits to office, 99; visit to hospital, 12; colds and minor ills, 57; dressings, 50; sent to doctors, 13; sent to hospital, 5; sent to South hall infirmary, 8; influenza, 2; mumps 1. Women—Visits to office, 63; visits to home, 10; visits to hospital, 20; colds and minor ills, 37; dressings, 7; sent to doctors, 7; operations (appendectomy), 1; measles, 1; sent to hospital, 1.

SENIORS MAY OBTAIN SENTINEL CUT FREE

Group and Individuals Must Call at Sentinel Office for Likenesses

Organizations who wish to keep the cuts of their groups, taken for this year's annual, must call for them at the Sentinel office within the next week, said Bob Warden, editor of this year's book. Seniors who wish to get their individual cuts must also get them at this time. The senior cuts must be separated, as they come two to a block, but it is a simple matter to cut them apart. All other cuts from the Sentinel will be placed in a "Sentinel morgue" so that old cuts may be used in future years. The uncalled-for groups and senior cuts, however, will be destroyed. People who wish to get these cuts may have them by calling at the office. There will be no charge for them.

Only about 75 of the year-books are left, and anyone who wishes to get one should do so at once. Students and faculty members may have them for $3.00; outsiders must pay $3.50.

Speaking of the financial status of the book, Warden said: "There is only about $650 outstanding. Total advertising amounted to about $2,200. Of the 63 advertisers, only eight are in any way delinquent and money keeps coming in every day. The business office will handle the collections."

DEAN STONE HONORED AT YEARLY GATHERING

Students of the School of Journalism and their friends enjoyed the seventh annual Dean Stone Night at Greenough park Tuesday evening, at which more than 100 students attended.

Supper, consisting of beans, salad, hot dogs, buns, coffee, ice cream and cakes, was served at about 6:30, after which all played games until it grew dark.

When the group gathered around the fire, Spot Sanford led a few yells, after which Edgar Reeder, president of the Press club, introduced the various speakers and entertainers.

Roy Adderholt and Alton Bloom played violin duets, and Chad Wallin and Johnnie Wise entertained with banjo selections.

Dean T. C. Spaulding, of the School of Forestry, Burley Miller, and Professor Housman spoke briefly, after which Reeder called upon the graduating seniors to say a few words. Ann Nilson, Gretchen Muckler, Mary Angland, Winifred Wilson, Jack Coulter, Ben Quessel, Louis Stevens and Woody Dutton each responded with a few words of appreciation at having been able to be here, and regret at having to leave Montana. Dean Stone then addressed the gathering and the meeting closed with the singing of "College Chums."

William Nolan, a member of the Washington state college baseball team, was a dinner guest at the Sigma Alpha house Wednesday evening.

REVIEWS of Books and Plays

"The Relation Between Science and Theology." By C. Stuart Gager. The Open Court Publishing Company. Price $1.00.

Were Mr. Gager's thesis: "Of all human ambitions, an open mind is the noblest, the rarest, and the most difficult to achieve," we would say that this book is its exposition.

The past few years have seen volume after volume of attempt to correlate science and religion through many media, some quite successful and others not so successful. Mr. Gager has realized the difficulties of his task and slowly but carefully met them by proving that a scientific basis underlies both contentions. He has appealed carefully and analytically to the thinking processes the ordinary mind goes through, and established relationships that are satisfactory in their clearness.

The book is worth not only a single reading, but repeated and careful scrutiny.

"Greek Culture and the Greek Testament." By Doremus Almy Hayes. Published by the Abingdon Press. Price $1.50.

Mr. Hayes is professor of New Testament Interpretation in the Greek School of Theology in the Garrett Biblical Institute. He not only believes in the glory that was Greece, but contends gracefully that the retention of the glory lies a great deal with us, and with our study, who inherit the riches of those days. As a plea for the study of Greek classics and the Greek New Testament, it takes a lucid place beside many of the scholarly works that have preceded it. The "greatest Greek book," as he prefers to call the New Testament, to him is a living exposition of the complete realization of the ideal all-around human life and culture, not for pedagogical reasons, but because the classics form an inalienable background to our civilized knowledge; he makes a plea for their retention in the curricula of colleges over the country.

Some of us may not agree with him that a neglect of the classics has resulted in a gradual return to barbarism, as he says the triumph of efficiency in the last great war was at the same time the triumph of barbarism in Europe. Not because of these reasons, but because he makes the classics show a living purpose fully as great as the present day arts and sciences—the world of literature, as well as the academic world, has a place of Professor Hayes' book.

BOOK REVIEW TALK BROADCAST BY KUOM

R. L. Housman of the School of Journalism broadcast a 20-minute talk on the flippancy of book reviewing yesterday evening over KUOM. Mr. Housman said: "Book reviewing is usually considered as a thankless job, but a book well reviewed is a distinct contribution to the field of writing. The humorous review is generally called flippant. It is not difficult to understand the humorous review so clearly written that it points out the weak spots of the book reviewed, and one laughs instead of resorting to the serious feeling to which so many of our reviews are prone."

Mr. Housman read a humorous review of the recent book entitled "The Alaskan."

ROBERT MORRIS WILL TAKE EXAM FOR M.A. DEGREE

Robert Morris, assistant in Education, will take an examination next week to secure a Master of Arts degree in Mathematics.

Before coming to the University of Montana, Morris attended Marion Institute, a military preparatory school in Alabama, and entered the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis in 1918. He received a Bachelor of Science degree at Gonzaga in 1924 and returned to Marion Institute the next year as instructor in Mathematics.

Since coming to Montana in 1925, Morris has taken graduate work in Mathematics and has been assistant in the Education department. He is a member of Pi Mu Epsilon, national mathematics fraternity, and Sigma Chi, men's social fraternity.

DEBATE SQUAD ENDS SEASON AFTER EXTENSIVE CAMPAIGN

This Year's Meets Were Non-Decision, Open Forum Contests

With the beginning of the spring quarter, debating closed for this year after an active season which covered eight separate debates and a state trip involving dual debates in 12 Montana towns. Upperclass, freshmen men's and women's debate are three separate divisions of forensic activity in the University which have offered distinct opportunities for participation in this work.

Tryouts, or elimination contests, are held in the fall quarter to select the squads, as a preliminary step toward choosing final teams of two and three representatives. Any person may try for the squad. Individual talks advocating several points of the proposed question, and are judged upon content and presentation. References for the final contests are prepared in advance for the reading members, but they must do all reading, note-taking, and construction of arguments. Later in the season teams cross-debate on both sides of the question for practice. The public speaking credit course given in the University is supplementary to this work if one desires to take it; it is handled by H. M. Keele, debate coach. All debates this year have been non-decision, open forum contests, where in speakers remained upon the platform afterward to answer questions from the audience pertaining to the subject.

Freshmen Included

Before last year all aspirants, men and women, tried out for the all-University team. At that time the field expanded to include freshmen and women's debate; the former team met the Montana State college freshmen and the women's team challenged other state schools. Varsity and Aggie teams made a tour of the state through ten prominent towns, the home team also meeting men from Oxford, Kansas Agricultural college, and participating in triangular debates between Idaho, Utah and Montana.

Varsity debate, proposing an amendment to the constitution which would permit the manufacture, sale and use of light wines and beer, commenced March 8 in the state trip with M.S.C. In the past, reciprocal debates have been held at Missoula and Bozeman in alternate years. Each year it has been customary for the State college and Montana teams to take a state trip, before or after this debate, to present their question in the various towns. This year it was the duty of the University to arrange the tour, in charge of Carl McFarland, manager, which included a northern and eastern circuit. A negative and affirmative team of two men each from the University and M.S.C. took each route.

Einar Strommes, Sid McCarthy, Archie Blair and Joe Sweeney took the eastern one through Whitehall, Lewistown, Forsyth, Rosebud and Bear Creek. Carl McFarland, Ed Pool, Edwin Booth and Harry Sager took the northern schedule through Kalspell, Columbia Falls, Cutbank, Shelby, Conrad, Havre and Great Falls. Later, in dual debate, Herbert Hoagland and Arthur Acher met the University of Utah here, while Charles Conley and Gid Boldt went to Salt Lake to debate, on the return trip meeting the Utah Aggies at Logan, Utah, and the School of Mines at Butte.

Women Have Teams

Women's and freshmen men's teams debated the child labor question. Walter Mondale, Henry W. Hough, E. Ivan Caraway, composing the negative team, and Alois V. Himsel, E. P. Lake and Bruce Hall, affirmative, met M.S.C. freshmen in dual debate January 18. The women's team met the members of the Dillon State Normal team February 4, in dual debate. Affirmative debaters, who remained in Missoula, were Clare Flynn, Pauline Astle and Elsie Blair. Those who went to Dillon were Dorothy Quigley, Liz Maury and Olivia O'Leary. All except Olivia O'Leary are freshmen women.

The local association is called the Montana Debate Union. At a recent meeting Herbert W. Haugland was elected president; Carl McFarland, manager, and Elsie Blair, secretary. Plans were made to forward a petition to Delta Sigma Rho, national honorary forensic fraternity, in an attempt to secure a charter to establish a chapter on this campus. Delta Sigma Rho was organized in Chicago, April, 1906, by representatives from leading midwestern universities. It has chapters in practically all prominent schools of the country and is usually considered by many to be the foremost debate fraternity. Upperclass debaters received gold M's and the freshmen silver M's for this year's activity.

NEW CONCRETE COURTS ARE NEARING COMPLETION

"I expect to have two of the courts ready for play by the first of the week," said Tom Swearingen, maintenance engineer of the University, in referring to the women's tennis courts that are being constructed north of the Natural Science building.

At present there are six men working on the courts and the concreting of the four courts will be finished tomorrow. There is at present a man digging postholes for the fence. The plans call for a fence to surround the four courts. The playing space will be 78 feet long and 38 feet wide.

BIZ AD WOMEN MEET.

Women of the Business Administration department met at the Delta Gamma house at 7:30 Tuesday evening.

"We had a good turn-out," said Bernice Blomgren, president, "and took care of all important matters. After the business meeting we had a short musical program, and a very pleasant social time. This was the last meeting of the year."

Ding Tong!

Fraternities will again be allowed in the universities of Mississippi following the recent repeal of the Lee Russell law prohibiting fraternities. The law was passed in 1912 after some fraternity scandals.

Chapters will soon be installed under control of a faculty committee but no houses may be built for five years.

Spanish Club Offers Three-Act Comedy Thursday Evening

"Zaragueta," a three-part comedy in Spanish, which will be presented under the auspices of the Spanish club in Main hall auditorium the evening of June 2, is a new thing on the campus in its line. It is the first time the Spanish department has produced a big play for the public.

In speaking of this language play, B. E. Thomas, assistant professor of foreign languages, emphasized the effect in language teaching of vitalizing language through these plays, which have recently come into prominent use by language teachers in the United States. "One of the principal aims of education is vitalization," Professor Thomas explained. "Language is generally obtained through the eye, but if the student can get it through the ear and also emotions, a liking for the language is left in the individual, and further interest is awakened. These plays supply this faculty. They offer something tangible and result in helping the reading ability of students who take parts, and in making the language live for them. It is a good thing also for those who have studied language at some time to come to the play and renew their acquaintance with it. 'Zaragueta' lends itself very nicely to language purposes because seven from a cast of ten have nicely balanced parts."

Presented in New York

"This play was presented in eight high schools of New York city three years ago at a contest. A prize was given by the Hispania society to the one presenting the best performance of 'Zaragueta.' This has been played many times in Berkeley, and also during the past ten years has been produced in the United States any number of times," said Mr. Thomas.

Carl Glick, director of dramatics, said of the play: "I've seen it done in English and it was very successful and extremely funny. The particular production I saw was that of Donald Robertson in Chicago and on tour. Robertson was then director of the theater at the Chicago Art Institute. From what I have seen of the rehearsals of the Spanish club, the play to be presented here will also be a big success from a dramatic standpoint. It has proven quite successful in Little theaters as well."

To Be Given in Spanish

Although the play here will be presented in Spanish, it has been emphasized by members of the club that anyone with only elementary knowledge of Spanish, or none at all, would thoroughly enjoy the play because it has so much action in it, and the action and words are so well suited and expressive. Elsie Eminger, who played the leading part in Butte several years ago, will have the lead here. Tickets are now on sale at 25 cents and may be obtained from Mr. Thomas or any member of the Spanish club.

BIG JOB

Taking a full charge of the 36-page Daily News of San Pedro, ten students of the Journalism department of the University of Southern California made the third and last field trip of the department this year under the leadership of Lee Conti, editor of the Daily Trojan to San Pedro Saturday.

According to the opinions expressed by San Pedro people, the special students' issue possessed many praise-worthy qualities. Commenting on the paper, Lowell Jensen, who is the editor of the San Pedro Daily News, declared that the students held the paper up to a high journalistic standard. Jensen was the editor-in-chief of the Daily Trojan in 1921 and a member of the Phi Alpha Mu, Sigma Sigma and Skull and Dagger fraternities.

With the students who made the trip was Professor Marc Goodnow of the Journalism department of this university. Each year Professor Goodnow takes his students on such field trips to give them practical experience in their chosen profession.

Hot Stuff Wanted

Stanford's smoke-eaters have announced to the world that they crave flames but not conversation. University residents who believe that a fireman "knows all and sees all" will now be forced to use other sources for general information.

Telephone calls are received at the firehouse at all hours of the night from worried parties who want the time, a taxicab, somebody's house, or the Western Union office. Midnight callers are especially hard to convince that the fire station is not the power house or a radio station. After once asleep, the firemen object to the practice of hardluck motorists waking them up in the early hours of the morning to obtain the precious gallon of gasoline which will enable them to reach home.

For $91 a student may live for nine weeks by the sea shore and may earn 13 university credits. Courses in zoology, botany, animal and plant morphology are offered at the University of Washington. Besides 90 tents there is a combination living room, library and dining hall, which seats two hundred at meals.

WHEN

Two's a Crowd

A warm mellow moon flooded the long garden with a soft glow, and the still shadows made everything seem lazy.

And few girls were sweeter—as lovable—as Alice. Her eyes were just a little moody, and her smile, slow and lingering.

"Oh—I think it's wonderful out tonight, so comfy here in the garden. Let's not go in and dance, let's sit out here, forever, just you and I, and talk."

"You may if you wish. I want to push the pedals to that music's strain. I want to dance—see you later," came the answer.

"You won't sit here with me?" "Naw, what's the fun of two girls sitting in the moonlight together?"

PLANS COMPLETE TO PLACE SENIOR GIFT IN LIBRARY

Discussions for Class day and the installation of the clock which will be the gift of the Senior class to the University was the major business brought up at the class meeting Tuesday afternoon. Each senior will be taxed ten cents to allow for the purchase, installation, and care of the clock for three years. It is estimated that this will take about $150. A senior from each department was appointed to collect the tax from members of the class.

Lauretta Wills will write the class history, Paul Devore the class prophecy, and Annie Nilson the class prophecy, according to Annie Nilson, who is in charge of the Senior Class day activities. Other committees will be announced later.

What Makes the Wheels Go 'Round?

Behind every wheel you see turning on the street, in a watch or on a windmill, is a motive force constructed by man's ingenuity or the utilizing of nature to man's needs. These man-created articles were not evolved haphazardly like the sand dunes in the desert, blown here and there according to the whim of the moment.

We, as individuals, are cogs in the innumerable wheels which make the world what it is today and our fate is determined by the amount of energy each of us expends. As individuals we are interested primarily in our own progress and we don't care how long the other fellow can stand the wear and tear—the thing we look for is the breaks that will affect us.

In order for you, for me and for all of us to be up in the front line of success, advantage must be taken of the growing tendency toward education, which is the aim of all of us desiring to be the central cog in the world's machinery.

Only by Going to School

Can you obtain the knowledge and education necessary to keep the dizzy pace set by modern conditions?

At THE UNIVERSITY OF MONTANA courses are offered in nine different schools giving you a choice of over 25 different departments from which to pick your vocation.

Over 1,200 men and women have graduated and are successfully defending their strategic place in the realm of business relations. Their foresight in adequately preparing themselves for life's struggle has made the task much easier than it would have been.

The old-style self-made man is becoming extinct. Modern business conditions demand a man to be equipped with the latest tools. The wooden shovel and charcoal of Lincoln have been supplanted by the blackboard and chalk of the University class room.

Train yourself properly and you can sit on top looking down on those who are looking up and wondering how you got there.

1926 GRIZZLY TRACK TEAM FINISHES SEASON SATURDAY

Bobcats and Intermountain Montana's Foes Tomorrow

Montana bids farewell to her champion 1926 track team tomorrow when the Grizzlies engage Montana state college and Intermountain college in the state intercollegiate meet on Dornblaser field, starting at 2 o'clock.

In the four meets participated in by Montana the Grizzlies have set seven new state and conference marks. Gillette leads the list with conference marks in the mile and two-mile runs, Russell Sweet holds the conference 100-yard dash title, Coyle the state pole vault, Spaulding the state high hurdles, Bessey the state javelin throw and the half-mile relay team holds the Seattle Relay carnival mark. The Grizzlies hold 14 of the 15 state track records, two conference records and two Seattle Relay records.

Gillette Seeks Record
If the weather forecast holds true Gillette will likely shatter his two-mile time. Gillette set his record at the Pacific coast conference meet at Palo Alto an hour after he had established a new mile mark.

Coach Stewart believes the Ferguson county marvel can lower his two-mile time providing he runs in no other event so Gillette will be fresh for his supreme effort.

Run Last Race

Four Grizzly runners, Captain Milton Ritter, Emil Blumenthal, Heenan Stark and Al Blumenthal sing their swan songs Saturday. Ritter and Stark have won three track letters while the Blumenthal brothers are completing their second year as members of Montana's track team. All are anxious to make good showings and the 440-yard dash between Ritter, E. Blumenthal and Stark promises to be one of the feature events of the day.

When Adams and Tysel run the half-mile Gillette's record hangs in the balance. Adams, declared by Stewart to have a perfect build for a middle distance runner, has traveled the 880 in 1:58.1. Should he equal this time tomorrow another mark will fall.

Sweet Not Running

Minus Russell Sweet, who is nursing a pulled tendon, the greater part of the Grizzly sprinting attack rests upon Clarence Coyle, Alberton flash. Coyle has been clocked in 9.9 seconds in the 100-yard dash so he should win the sprints without much trouble. Stark and Ritter are Montana's other entries in the dashes.

Coyle and Miller will battle for a new pole vault height. Both men have been vaulting at record height for the past week and expect to boost the mark several inches. Spaulding will make a final effort to lower his high hurdle mark. The lanky Grizzly stick topper has unofficially run the tall timber in 15.7 seconds and should weather conditions prove ideal he will probably shatter his mark.

The strength of the Bobcats and Intermountain is reputed to lie in the field events so Bessey, Pearce, Al Blumenthal and Rule are preparing themselves for a busy afternoon. The Bobcats arrive today with a squad of 18 or 20 men while Intermountain comes tonight with a team of three.

KAPPAS WIN OPENER IN BASEBALL SERIES

Kappa Kappa Gamma won the first game of the Women's Intersociety baseball series from Alpha Chi Omega Thursday evening, by a score of 42 to 15.

The lineups were:

Sterling Magrath

Shroeder Hannes for Blair

Dixon Erie
Pitcher.

Stipek Hayes

Stephenson Madsen

Walker Lindsey

Lemire Dunlap

This afternoon at 4 o'clock Kappa Delta will play Phi Beta; at 5 o'clock Alpha Xi Delta will play Delta Gamma and Kappa Alpha Theta will play Sigma Kappa. Semi-finals will be played Tuesday afternoon, June 2.

Clothing Class Work on Display.

The dresses that have been recently finished by the members of the Clothing 14 class are in the clothing laboratory in the Natural Science building and can be seen by those who are interested.

Home Ec Seniors Entertained.

The seniors in the Home Economics department, with Miss Gleason and Miss Platt, were entertained by Winifred Brennan and Dora Huffman at the Phi Beta house Wednesday evening, May 26.

NOTICE

Alpha Kappa Psi will meet at Simpkins hall Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock. It is important that all members be present.

JACK DIMOND, President.

JOURNALISM FRATERNITIES WILL HONOR DEAN STONE

It is the custom of the graduating members of Theta Sigma Phi, women's national honorary journalism fraternity, and Sigma Delta Chi, men's international honorary journalism fraternity, to give a banquet each year in honor of Dean A. L. Stone.

This year's banquet will be held at the Blue Parrot next Wednesday at 6 o'clock. Alumni members of the two organizations in Missoula are invited.

Your Own Back Yard.

The University of Minnesota is having a great deal of discussion on the zoning question. The fight at present is to establish a fraternity district about the campus. Factory owners who have locations near the University are fighting the proposal. Much interest is being shown by Minnesota students in the outcome of the zoning fight at the University of Illinois.

SPORTY-VENTS

Special—Montana State's Bobcats will be over here for games Wednesday and Thursday and the Grizzlies will play in Bozeman June 7 and 8.

Seven Grizzly ball players pulled the veil over their conference collegiate athletic careers yesterday afternoon. It's sorrowful that after going 11 frames the boys had to lose. However, they scrapped to the end and although we didn't get a conference triumph this year their Alma Mater is proud of what they have done in the past, especially the accomplishments of some of them in other branches of sports.

Jimmy O'Connor, Captain Cammie Meagher, Scorp Anderson, Danta Hanson, Bus Tarbox, Obbie Berg and Chief Ilman have all faced their last conference fire.

With Brownie at the third-base coaching line, the Grizzlies have had considerable luck scoring runs this season. He was there during the opening canto yesterday, but must have spent all his stuff when the ninth came around.

Even the best of 'em falter. Art Berg dropped an easy fly of Hanson's yesterday.

Kelly was in there with some of his football fight against the Cougars. He went behind the backstop to nab a foul off Shelby's bat.

Here are the football struggles that have been scheduled for next year's yearlings:

October 20—Washington State frosh at Missoula.
November 6—Montana State frosh at Missoula.
November 13—Idaho yearlings at Moscow.
Practice games with the Varsity and high schools.

The Pacific Coast conference cross-country run will be held at Seattle next fall, about November 6, at the time of one of the big football games there. Coach Stewart says that at least five men are necessary to make up a team and that anyone wishing to make the team will have to report for practice by September 24.

Williams, Gillette, McCarthy, Martin, K. Davis, Gaughan and Tysel have already signed up.

There ain't no justice. A chauffeur in St. Louis asked Jim Bottomley to knock the pellet towards him and when Bottomley's homer did come that way it hit the guy on the nose. Now he sues the St. Louis Cards and gets $35,000. And Scorp Anderson took a scorching grounder on the cheek the other day for nothing.

John L. Griffith of Chicago, commissioner of athletics in the Big Ten and chairman of the National Collegiate Association, says these words in a letter to Coach Stewart:

Congratulations on the work of Sweet and Gillette in the Pacific Coast conference meet. These men have a good chance to win in the National meet and I trust that you will send in your entry and will bring them and any other good men that you may have. Further, won't you boost the meet with the other men out your way?

All of you fellows who intend to don moleskins next fall should attend the meeting of football men in the gym Monday evening at 7:30.

Three of Missoula high's point-winners are certain to be here in school next fall. Dvorak, Ed Thomas and Fisher will be here, while Parks is undecided. Jones will enter the University after the fall quarter and Mario and Jacobson, who is captain of the 1927 Missoula high track squad, have another year of high school. These capable performers certainly have shown the car-marks of fine assets.

W.S.C. and Gonzaga play a two-game ball series starting today at Spokane. Idaho and W.S.C. are slated to play a three-game title series the first of next week.

COUGARS WIN HEARTBREAKER IN ELEVENTH INNING RALLY

Grizzlies Gather Four Runs in First Canto, Then Fail to Score Again

Montana jumped on Becker for four runs in the first frame yesterday afternoon and then the chubby Cougar chucker screwed down the lid for the remaining 10 innings, allowing two slim singles, while his mates collected seven runs to cop the tilt that threw Washington into a tie with Idaho for the eastern division flag.

O'Connor came out of a twirling slump to go the full route and keep everything well enough scattered to win had the Grizzlies not booted nine times. With the score 4-4 to begin the eleventh, Becker slapped one to left for one base. Colvin sacrificed and Ilman dropped a fly and Anderson muffed a grounder to send one tally across. Then that wicked sticking Marker sent a slow one over second to add two more scores and cinch the battle.

Many Errors Made. Although the game was marred by 15 errors, it was close enough to be thrilling. Becker was stingy with his offerings, allowing only five safeties and only one of them was for more than one base.

Colvin was hit to open and he scored when Marker singled hotly to left. The Grizzlies grabbed the lead in their half. Meagher starting with an airplane-double over the orchard fence. Richards dropped a throw to first to get Hanson and Cammie and Hans raced home on Ilman's single to left. Colvin dropped Chief's grounder, letting him take second. Colvin dropped Kelly's fly, Ilman seeing and Kelly took third when Becker overthrew to get him at second. Anderson beat out an infield hit as Billy tore home. That ended the Grizzly counting.

Play Good Ball.

The Staters were scoreless in the next three, but an error in the fifth and Marker's triple coupled with Berg's single in the sixth gave them one in each of these cantos. In the eighth they knotted the score on three Grizzly muffs and Berg's third single.

Then things lightened until pair of blunders and a couple of singles gave W. S. C. three tallies. This defeat marked the close of Montana's conference season without a win. Non-conference crews were the only ones to fall before the Grizzlies, Whitman doing so twice and Gonzaga once.

TENNIS MATCHES WELL UNDER WAY; POOL IS WINNER

Three matches of the preliminaries and one match of the second round of the men's tournament have been completed. The second round games of the tournament should be finished Wednesday, according to Harry Adams, director of intra-mural athletics. The championship contest will probably be played next Saturday providing the weather is favorable so that the remaining games can be completed by that time.

Pool is the only man that has won his first two matches. He defeated L. Schilling in the preliminaries by two straight sets of 6-2 and 6-3. In the second round he defeated Don Moore in two straight sets by the same scores. The other victors of the first round are: M. Lord over J. Coulter in two sets by 6-3 and 13-11; Don Moore beat O. Malm in two sets by a 6-1 count.

SENSATIONAL HITTING GIVE COUGARS GAME

Hanson Shows Class Against Slugging Washington Nine in First Game

Those clouting Cougars kept Montana out of the conference win column Wednesday when they gathered 13 blows for 10 runs, holding the Grizzlies to nine hits and six tallies and moving within one notch of tying Idaho for eastern division baseball honors.

Marker's swatting and a thrilling running catch by Art Berg of Kelly's terrific drive to center that was labeled four-ply, featured the Cougar victory. Meeker and Marker slammed homers with a man on base each time.

Hanson Looked Good

Hanson pitched a nice game for the Grizzlies, but the Staters simply had too many powerful bludgeon wielders. Anderson not only had hard luck in fielding but took a fast-bounding grounder just below the left eye when a Cougar base-runner hesitated long enough to obstruct his vision of the approaching pellet.

The tilt was interesting until the seventh when the foes sent five men scampering home. Colvin and Mitchell singled to center and Exley was safe on Anderson's error. Marker's lacer to left scored a pair. Then Richards singled and Meeker doubled over short, registering two more.

These four opportune blows were two much for the Grizzlies. They came back in their half and scored one and rallied in the eighth for three on Meagher's triple, Hanson's single, Ilman's stroll and a couple of errors.

Cougars Cinch Game

Beginning the ninth with the score 8-6 in their favor, Meeker hoisted one to center for the circuit, scoring a mote ahead of him. Montana failed to count in her half.

Of Course, This Store Is Where Savings Are Greatest

When it comes to talking about Quality of goods, we would just like to say that Quality for Quality and Dollar for Dollar you will find it extremely difficult to get more for your money elsewhere.

In making this statement in this positive way we want to go a step beyond: Please do this: MAKE YOUR OWN COMPARISONS OF THE QUALITY OF OUR GOODS WITH THAT OFFERED ELSEWHERE.

We have no particular store in mind. Go where you will, in or out of town. We do not claim to be performing miracles in business and such things as exaggerated claims are not within what we regard as good business ethics.

However, our 24 years of extensive operations, the quantity of goods required by our 670 Stores, and our unexcelled buying position in the field of production, make of each one of our Stores, including this Store, undeniably the place "where savings are greatest."
